4 Killed, 28 Hurt—

102 Survive
Flaming Crash

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP)—A jet airliner crashed Thursday night seconds after taking off in a wind-whipped snowstorm. The huge ship's speed sent it slamming across a highway, clipping an auto and skidding in flames into a marsh.

Of the 106 persons reported aboard, 102 escaped death, although at least 26 were injured, several critically.

The dead tentatively were identified as four of the eight crew members — three men and the woman purser. Sixty-one of the 88 passengers aboard the four-engine airliner are residents of the United States.

The airliner, a DC8B of Aeromexico, went down at 8:25 p.m. It was bound nonstop for Mexico City.

Efforts of aviation officials to launch an investigation at the crash scene were severely handicapped as the heavy snowfall continued today. Scattered bits of wreckage were picked up but concentrated efforts were impossible.

One survivor, G. Terry Schacht of Farmington, Conn., said the plane got about 50 feet in the air, then skidded down. Other survivors weren't certain if the plane ever got off the ground.

Idlewild Airport observers said the $5-million craft had to get aloft to clear a concrete fence at the end of the runway. The plane did hit a wire fence just beyond the concrete barrier. Sections of the wire fence were crushed in the wreckage. The front section of the plane became enveloped in flames.

The Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Aviation Agency began on-scene investigations in an attempt to learn the cause of the crash.

The one person aboard who might have the answer is William B. Poe, 52, of Miami, Fla., check pilot aboard the plane. But Poe's (Continue on page 7)

Boy Fatally
Knifed During
Schoolyard Row

CHICAGO (AP)—An eighth-grader was fatally knifed Thursday in a schoolyard argument stemming from a shoving incident at Our Lady of Sorrows School on the West Side.

The victim, William Bryant, 14, was felled minutes after the day's classes were dismissed. Police identified his assailant as Cornelius Alston, 15, a pupil in a different eighth grade room at the school. Bryant was white. Alston is a Negro.

Alston was quoted by Capt. Patrick Flynn as saying he confronted Bryant to discuss an incident involving the victim's younger sister and Alston's younger brother. The officer said Alston related that the stabbing took place when Bryant appeared to reach for a weapon.

Flynn said Alston was a member of the Vice Lords, a teen-age gang, and had been involved in gang fights. The youth was held without charge.

Kennedy Invites Communist World
To Take Part In Quest For Peace

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—John F. Kennedy in his first moments as president today invited the Communist world to join in a new beginning of "the quest for peace."

After taking the oath as the nation's 35th chief executive, Kennedy said in his inaugural address:

Johnson
Takes Oath
Of Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a brief preliminary to the main show of the presidential inauguration, Lyndon Baines Johnson of Texas today takes the oath as vice president.

At that instant Richard Milhous Nixon of California becomes a private citizen and—in his own words—a "senior statesman" as the Republican party's defeated candidate for president.

Johnson, who served five years as Senate majority leader, will take over the presidential office's chair when the Senate meets later in the afternoon to discuss Cabinet appointments.

As the new vice president, Johnson has drafted operating plans which will keep him busy a large part of his time in executive department tasks. He will take over the chairmanship of a space advisory council and head a presidential committee for job equality on government contracts.

Nixon takes off Saturday with his wife, Pat, for a month's vacation in Nassau. When he returns, he plans to join a Los Angeles law firm.

Nixon made it plain at a farewell gathering with reporters he intends to be active as titular head of the Republican party. He said he will write and speak in efforts to build up Republican strength in the big city areas, the South and among college students.

$16 Million Tax
Revenue Hangs
On CB&Q Case

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court has taken under advisement a case that could cost local tax bodies in the state about $16 million a year in revenue.

State Revenue Department officials made this estimate Thursday in asking the high court to overrule the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad objections to property taxes in Lee County.

The railroad paid 1958 taxes under protest, claiming its property in Lee County was assessed at 100 per cent of value while other local properties were assessed at 55 per cent.

The Lee County Court ordered the county to refund $23,000—an amount equaling 45 per cent of (Continued On Page Seven)

HIGHLIGHTS OF
KENNEDY SPEECH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Highlights of President Kennedy's inaugural address:

We observe today . . . a celebration of freedom—symbolizing an end as well as a beginning—signifying renewal as well as change.

The torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born in this country, tempered by war, disciplined by a cold and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage.

Let every nation know, whether it wish us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and success of liberty.

To those nations who would make themselves our adversary, we offer not a pledge but a request: that both sides begin anew the quest for peace, before the dark powers of destruction unleashed by science engulf all humanity in planned or accidental self-destruction.

We dare not tempt them with weakness, for only when our arms are sufficient beyond doubt can we be certain beyond doubt that they will never be employed.

Although Kennedy made no direct reference to the situation in Cuba, he in effect reaffirmed the Monroe Doctrine when he said: "Let all our neighbors know that we shall join with them to oppose aggression or subversion anywhere in the Americas. And let every other power know that this hemisphere intends to remain the master of its own house."

In a call for Western unity, he said, "We dare not meet a powerful challenge at odds and split asunder."

He pledged to help underdeveloped nations to help themselves "not because the Communists are doing it, but because it is right."

To his own fellow-citizens Kennedy said, "ask not what your country will do for you—ask what you can do for your country."

As for himself, he said "in the long history of the world, only a few generations have been granted the role of defending freedom in its hour of maximum danger."

"I do not shrink from this responsibility—I welcome it. I do not believe that any of us would exchange places with any other person or any other generation."

"The energy, the faith and the devotion which we bring to this endeavor will light our country and all who serve it—and the glow from that fire can truly light the world."

8-Inch Snowfall—

Hundreds Of Plows
Clear Way For Parade

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hundreds of snowplows working through the night succeeded today in clearing Pennsylvania Avenue of nearly all snow and ice in time for the inaugural parade despite an 8-inch snowfall.

Tons of rock salt dumped along the 1½-mile route from the Capitol to the White House assured that the marchers and floats would be able to move.

Kerner
Heads Up
Illinois

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois—himself inaugurated less than two weeks ago—led his state's parade delegation today in the gala parade saluting the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy.

An army of 550 snowplows and dump trucks worked through the night to clear Pennsylvania Avenue of an eight-inch snowfall which was dumped on the city less than 24 hours before the parade.

Illinois' contribution to the serpentine parade boasted a 120-piece band from the Chicago Fire Department and the 60-member marching band of Chicago's Weber High School.

Another Illinois resident, Midshipman Ronald H. Reimann of Danville, brigade commander of midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy, headed the cadet corps marching near the head of the parade.

The Illinois float—38 feet long, 14 feet wide and 17 feet high—was adorned with 12 young women, selected from Illinois Congressional offices. Other eye-catchers on the float were an outline of the Chicago skyline, a bright display of 30 flags representing Chicago nationalities, and a 17-foot heart emblazoned: "Chicago—Heart of Mid-America."

Col. Jack Riley, Chicago supervisor of special events, estimated 500 Illinoisans came to Washington to watch or participate in inaugural festivities.

The fire department bandmen wore regulation uniforms as they serenaded parade audiences with martial music. For good measure, they threw in "The Chicago Firehouse Special," which includes parts for siren and firebell.

Castro's Firing
Squads Execute
Two More Cubans

By ROBERT BERRELEZ
HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's firing squads executed two more Cubans today. His regime began dismantling some of its defenses after 20 hectic days of alert against the invasion that never came.

The two men were executed at Havana's La Coubana prison. Their names were not announced immediately.

They and six others were sentenced to die Thursday after conviction on charges of terrorism and sabotage. The newspaper Revolution said the sentences of two of the men, convicted of killing militiamen, were reduced to 30 years imprisonment. Authorities were silent on the fate of the other four. Seven other defendants were given 30-year sentences.

The executions brought to 587 the unofficial total of those gunned down by Castro's firing squads since he took power in January 1959.

Castro scheduled a speech this afternoon to welcome home some of the civilian militiamen being demobilized as the government pulled in its anti-invasion home. It was assumed he would repeat his claim of last week that only the 20-day alert and the arms given him by the Communist bloc prevented the invasion he had said the Eisenhower administration would order before it left office.

LOOKS FORWARD TO SEEING WIFE—
BUT NOT IN LAWS

VANDALIA, Ill. (AP)—David T. Driver says he will be happy to see his wife and children after 12 years, but Driver says he's not anxious to see his wife's relatives.

"My wife's brothers kept nagging me so I left," Driver told a newsman Thursday at the Vandalia state penal farm.

Driver has been missing from his home in Lexington, N.C., since 1949. He was declared legally dead in 1957.

His whereabouts came to light when his wife applied for social security benefits. During a routine social security investigation, Driver's fingerprints popped up in FBI files.

The files showed Driver was serving a 5-month term for vagrancy in the Vandalia state penal farm. When he finishes the term in about 3½ months he will be returned to North Carolina to face abandonment charges filed by his wife.

Defense
Of LibertySPEAKS BAREHEADED
IN FRIGID SETTING

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—John F. Kennedy solemnly stepped to the inaugural platform at the Capitol at 12:11 p.m. today to take the oath of office as 35th President of the United States.

Kennedy smiled occasionally as he nodded to friends on either side of the aisle while striding to the platform. His step was slow and his attitude serious.

On the inaugural stand was an array of those distinguished in government and politics. There were members of Congress and the justices of the Supreme Court.

There was former president Harry S. Truman, who drew a cheer from the crowd as he arrived, wearing top hat and black overcoat.

The members of the Senate, some of them bareheaded, filed into the stand well in advance.

Despite the edict for silk topers there were many on the inaugural stand who wore homburgs.

The new president took office with a solemn pledge to defend the liberty of the United States at all costs and an eloquent plea to the Communists to join in a new quest for peace.

It was a blustery, cold, raw day, and Kennedy, looked out on Capitol grounds blanketed with an 8-inch snow.

"Let every nation know," Kennedy said in his inaugural address, "whether it wish us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and success of liberty."

Then, without mentioning the Communists by name, he said: "To those nations who would make themselves our adversary, we offer not a pledge but a request: that both sides begin anew the quest for peace, before the dark powers of destruction unleashed by science engulf all humanity in planned or accidental self-destruction."

In this frigid setting—you'd have to go back to the blizzard of 1860 at William Howard Taft's inauguration for a worse one—Kennedy held out warm words for the future.

Ninety Adventurous Years

About ten years ago Dr. Sherwood Eddy, Jacksonville's famed world traveler and Christian leader, wrote a book entitled "Eighty Adventurous Years". Now, a decade later, a new edition should be published with the title "Ninety Adventurous Years".

Few men, indeed, reach their ninth year with the alertness, spirit and zest for life which Sherwood Eddy has. Fewer still are those who can look back upon a life so full of challenge, action and service to God and humanity.

It is entirely fitting that the organizations he served so well during his active career, the Y.M.C.A. and the American Board of Commissioners of the Congregational Church, have honored him on his 90th birthday.

It is also fitting that his many friends and neighbors in this community joined with friends from all parts of the globe in paying tribute to him and to his noble work.

We salute you, Sherwood Eddy. Jacksonville is proud to number you as one of its foremost citizens.

In Good Company

Your newspaper, together with all the others in the nation, reaches a total daily circulation of 58 million persons. Twenty-five years from now it is expected to be 81 million.

"Newspaper circulation grows," says Stanford Smith, general manager of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., "because the service rendered to readers is not likely ever to become available from any other source... The newspaper has demonstrated that it fulfills an important role in safeguarding our free society against tyranny that no government can ever provide."

Expansive words, but most newspapermen are dedicated to living up to them.

Man In Street Would Not Swap Jobs With Man In White House

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The job has a big salary, a nice pension, and you get to live rent-free in a fine old house plentifully staffed with servants.

Your wife would hardly have to lift her hand—let alone her voice. Doesn't it sound like every man's dream?

Well, every American mother's son has a born right to aspire to this wonderful job—but most of them say they wouldn't take it for love, patriotism or money. To them it isn't a dream job. It's a living nightmare.

That job is the one 43-year-old John F. Kennedy took over Friday as president of the United States. A handful of professional politicians present at the inauguration were such to themselves. "Why didn't it have happened to me?"

Why shouldn't I be the one taking the oath?"

But the man in the street has no envy at all of Kennedy, and no desire for his new job. To him it would be not a boon, but an affliction. He'd rather be in his own shoes than Kennedy's.

Why doesn't the average American want his country's top political job, often hailed as the world's most powerful post?

Here are typical answers from a sample survey: "Too much responsibility." "You have to make too many important decisions. The way it is now I can let my wife make the decisions. She enjoys it. I don't."

"You have to try to please too many people. Even then half of them wind up hating you." "It makes you old too soon. Ever notice how much older a president looks after he's been in office a few years?"

"Being president just doesn't sound like it would be much fun. You spend too much time holding conferences or going to public functions. Who wants that kind of a life? It would bore me."

"You might have to decide to send the country to war. If I had a worry like that on my mind, I'd never sleep at night."

"A president isn't really free. He's a kind of a prisoner in a way. He has to be guarded all the time against crooks. That would give me the willies."

The idea of living in the White House also appalls many ordinary American men—appealing as the prospect might be to their wives. "It's too big," said one. "I'd be like living in a railroad terminal. It wouldn't seem like home. It wouldn't be comfortable."

"And who'd want all those servants standing around listening when your wife bawled you out? Me—I like a little more privacy."

When it comes to guiding the destiny of the nation, John Q. Public is more than glad to "let George do it."

Or, in this case, John F.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Walt Disney doesn't have a desk. He operates in an easy chair before a low, square table. Spread on it are charts telling cost and progress of his various ventures. His chair faces his own particular process, a huge aerial photograph of Disneyland.

He was smoking a cigarette and sipping coffee one morning as he talked about the year ahead. Actually, he thinks in broader terms: some of his projects might be five years distant.

The year 1960 hadn't been a good one for the studio, he admitted. Figures had just been released showing a $1,340,000 loss. The company profited $3,400,000 in 1959.

Disney explained reasons for the reversal: A squabble with a network, with two TV series going off the air; an outside film ("The Big Fisherman") that lost money; over-estimates on film potentials, especially "Poltergeist," said he. "I think the picture would have done better with a different title. Girls and women went to it, but men tended to stay away because it sounded sweet and sticky."

He is not one to dwell on past mishaps, except to profit from the experience. Here are some of the plans he outlined in his varied realms:

1. Disneyland. "We're spending $1.9 million to run our monorail around the park and to the Disneyland hotel. It will run alongside the highway at speeds up to 45 miles per hour. Also, we're adding flying saucers, little cars that will ride on air."

2. Cartoons. His latest, "101 Dalmatians," will be released next month. "The Sword and the Stone," a tale of Merlin and the young King Arthur, is on the drawing boards. The cartoon features come out every two years.

3. Live-action films. "We're starting 'Babe in Toyland' in March. It's a modernized version with new lyrics for the Victor Herbert songs, which are just as good as ever. The cast will include Ray Bolger, Ed Wynn, Tommy Sands and Little Annette."

Also coming up: "Moon Pilot," an out-of-this-world comedy; "The Castaways," Jules Verne saga to star Hayley Mills in England; "Bon Voyage," a tale of tourists in Europe to star Fred MacMurray.

Dear Sir:

We are appealing to you only after other means have failed in our attempt to trace the Richardsons who settled on Mauvasterre creek in Morgan county as early as 1821.

Daniel, the older brother (born about 1800 in North Carolina) whose wife was Mary (born about 1808 in Virginia), had the following children and probably others: John, 1840; William, 1841; Henry, 1843; Thomas, 1846; James, 1847; Arama, 1849.

Benjamin (1810-1873) and wife Sarah (born about 1823 in Illinois) had these children and probably others: May, 1844; John, 1846; Nancy, 1847; George, 1849.

According to Historic Morgan and Classic Jacksonville, p. 33, the spot where they lived was three miles east of Jacksonville in 1884 and was then owned by a Benjamin Richardson, not one of the original brothers.

We would be delighted to correspond with any descendants of this family or any one who can give information about them.

Thank you for your kindness,
Most sincerely,

"Look—Uh—You Fellows Are Using the Wrong Technique"

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

Here's Why Good Man for The Job Is Hard to Get

BY PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—While

Cuban-U.S. relations have been going from bad to worse, the Kennedy administration has been having its troubles finding an assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs.

The job was offered to Thomas C. Mann, who has been holding it since last July. But he has been in Washington for several years as assistant secretary for economic affairs and he would like to return to the field. He is reported to be more interested in becoming United States ambassador to Mexico.

The job was also offered to Gov. Luis Munoz-Marin of Puerto Rico. But he has just been re-elected to another four-year term and would like to stay where he is.

Somebody with their experience and intimate knowledge of Latin America is needed for this most important post. But finding somebody who knows how to handle the assorted dictators and revolutionists—or is willing to try—has been the big worry of Kennedy's talent scouts.

A task force has been working at the State Department for some weeks, planning how to spend that $500 million dollars promised the Latin Americans by Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon at the Bogota Conference last September.

This is the traditionally screwy way these things are handled. Somebody figures that all problems would be solved if Uncle Sam would hand out a lot of money. Congress is then persuaded to authorize it.

So now—under the guise of saving Latin America from the twin curses of Castro and Communism—the State Department experts are planning how to spend the money, assuming Congress appropriates it this year.

If Congress does that, the joke is going to be on Dillon this time. For as secretary of the treasury in the Kennedy administration, he's the boy who will have to raise it.

There are already several lending agencies set up to barrel out the dough to Latin America. They include:

World Bank, Export-Import Bank, International Development Assn., International Finance Corp., Inter-American Development Bank, Development Loan Fund and International Cooperation Administration.

Those organizations will make loans of varying degrees of hardness or softness, the same way you grade cheese. With all their billions of dollars of capital, you would think they could satisfy every taste and smell. But no.

The 500 million dollars to head off the Castro in other countries is for "social development"—whatever that is. It is not for electric power, dams or steel mills.

It is intended to satisfy the pent-up longings of 120 million people—two-thirds of the Latin-American population—who are ill-fed, ill-housed, ill-clothed and illiterate.

Your heart goes out to these underprivileged people. But there is nothing in the plan for making the other third of the population—the cultured, overfed, well-housed big landholders pay some taxes and share some of their luxuries with their own poor. This is where social reform should begin.

Furthermore, the first installment of 500 million U.S. dollars earmarked to save Latin America from other Castros figures out to only 25 million dollars apiece for 20 countries, or $4.16 and a fraction for each of the underprivileged 120 million. And you can't buy much land reform, medical care or higher education for that money, even in the Andes highlands, the Amazon lowlands or on the Argentine plains.

So the problem becomes one of deciding where to begin.

Somebody suggests hospitals, pure water supply, sewers, improvement, schools, vocational training, diversification of agriculture, farm loans for better seed, fertilizer or tools, housing loans, small business loans. They need them all.

Then the argument begins on how to divide up the money available to do the most good in the shortest time, how the programs should be administered and what the chances are to get the money back in some sweat-by-and-by after 2000 A.D.

All this may explain why they've had so much difficulty finding an assistant secretary for Latin America.

Mr. J. S. Anderson says he has attended an unusual number of funerals this month. So far he has furnished 21 coffins, 11 of them being for former residents of this place.

Last evening a well dressed lady walked back and forth on West Street inquiring for various places and acting very strangely.

Messrs. Thomas Headen and John Cleary of West Liberty put up 40 tons of ice last week. They prophesy a hot summer.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

My sister is remarried to a man she previously divorced for physical abuse. As the playboy in our town, he was always in and out of trouble, once demanded and got four cars in one year. Now my sister says he is "reformed" but the way they treat their 2-year-old boy is scandalous. If Bobby points to something instead of asking for it (he can't talk yet) he's beaten with a flyswatter. If he falls down and hurts himself, this monster of a father will say, "Don't sympathize with him or he'll just yell harder." He says he treats the child like this to avoid spoiling him. What can we do to stop it?

ANSWER: You can direct that question to your local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

In the meantime you might consider the possibility that your brother-in-law is trying to safeguard his son against the suffering he himself experienced as a "spoiled" child; that in beating his baby he is heading down impulses he still fears in himself; that the "reformation" which establishes him as a respectable member of his community is the dike he has painfully built against the pressure of those fears.

I suggest these possibilities because it is never beneficial to us to regard another human being as a "monster."

Though we can judge your brother-in-law to be a dangerously incompetent parent, none of us is in any position to despise him. We all have our methods for dealing with intolerable hurts. Some are wiser than others.

If, in our vulnerable youth, we have been permitted to expose ourselves to repeated failures, we may choose a foolish method to correct them.

Like your brother-in-law, we may become so deeply afraid of the weaknesses that have involved us in painful humiliations that we panic at any sign of weakness in our children—and beat them. To the world we look like a monster.

But in our poor demented way, we are still human. We are struggling to protect our child. By inflicting physical pain with the flyswatter we hope to deter him from incurring the kind of pain our still-tortured, still-terrified consciences inflict on us.

What can we do to stop it?

ANSWER: You can direct that question to your local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

In the meantime you might consider the possibility that your brother-in-law is trying to safeguard his son against the suffering he himself experienced as a "spoiled" child; that in beating his baby he is heading down impulses he still fears in himself; that the "reformation" which establishes him as a respectable member of his community is the dike he has painfully built against the pressure of those fears.

I suggest these possibilities because it is never beneficial to us to regard another human being as a "monster."

Though we can judge your brother-in-law to be a dangerously incompetent parent, none of us is in any position to despise him. We all have our methods for dealing with intolerable hurts. Some are wiser than others.

If, in our vulnerable youth, we have been permitted to expose ourselves to repeated failures, we may choose a foolish method to correct them.

Like your brother-in-law, we may become so deeply afraid of the weaknesses that have involved us in painful humiliations that we panic at any sign of weakness in our children—and beat them. To the world we look like a monster.

But in our poor demented way, we are still human. We are struggling to protect our child. By inflicting physical pain with the flyswatter we hope to deter him from incurring the kind of pain our still-tortured, still-terrified consciences inflict on us.

However, were I you, these realizations would not deter me from reporting this unhappy man to the S.P.C.C.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a sentimental journey and a different kind of President.

On Feb. 17, 1952, when President Eisenhower held his first news conference after taking office, reporters jammed into the high-ceilinged room in the old State Department building near the White House.

He was 62 then and he seemed unsure of himself and tense. Wednesday, eight years and 192 news conferences later, reporters jammed into the same room to see and talk with the same man, now for the last time as President.

He was 70 now and very sure of himself. And he was at ease. The reporters didn't really go looking for news. They didn't expect much and, as it turned out, there wasn't. Eisenhower had only three days left in office and there was no reason to think he'd light a firecracker.

They went for various reasons, besides asking questions and jolting down answers. For instance, they were curious, remembering how he had looked in his first meeting with reporters as President, to see how he looked in the finale.

But there was also a sentimental reason for jam-packing Wednesday's news conference. Somehow by this big turnout the reporters wanted to wish him a hearty goodbye.

In the end they never said the word goodbye at all. They just stood up in respect and applauded as he walked out quickly, his hands high in that familiar gesture of good will he always used when standing in the back of an open car to greet crowds in New York, London, Paris, New Delhi.

But time and the presidency had wrought changes in Eisenhower. At that first news conference Eisenhower, fresh out of a lifetime in the Army and still a greenhorn in the intricacies of government, faltered as he tried to answer the questions flung at him.

It was painful, so painful this writer, sitting in the back row, gripped his hands together, wishing Eisenhower could do better or that the collective wish of the newsmen would help him. He was indeed ill at ease.

You wouldn't guess it, of course, if you went back now and read the transcript of that first news conference put out by the White House at the time.

It has no direct quotes. It said Eisenhower said this or Eisenhower said that. All the uncertainties had been eliminated by avoiding the direct quotes.

Wednesday Eisenhower, after eight years of government, was cheery, sure of himself, untense and fluent. His sentences still got jumbled a bit but no more than any man's might in any conversation.

Perhaps most remarkable of all was this: Wednesday Eisenhower, who had a heart attack in 1955, a stomach operation in 1956 and a minor stroke in 1957, was not only pink-cheeked but appeared in every way to be in excellent health.

One thing was sure: He was in good spirit, as a man might be expected to be just a few days before laying down the burdens of his presidency and knowing he was as well-liked at the end as he was at the beginning.

It is a part of the function of education to help us to escape—not from our own time, for we are bound by that—but from the intellectual and emotional limitations of our own time.

It is a thing of the past. —Nikita Khrushchev, referring to the U-2 incident.

There is no doubt that aggressive, hazardous driving is likely to be characteristic of persons similar to those who have suicidal and/or homicidal tendencies.

—Dr. A. L. Porterfield, Texas Christian U. sociologist recommending personality test as well as skill test for drivers.

"Chess, anyone?" Some day this challenge may come from a machine. If it ever does, don't play. Already computers have been taught to play checkers. One of these clever machines got so good in just 20 hours that it beat its instructor.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Food Stars in Yankee Weekend

OLD-FASHIONED chicken pie in the Yankee manner has visitors lined up for servings in Old Sturbridge Village.

GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We went to an old-fashioned Yankee winter weekend in Sturbridge, Mass. Our base was the white 18th-century Public House, once a pre-Revolutionary coaching house, and now famous for its food and lodging. During the day, we took sleigh rides in Old Sturbridge Village, visited the craft shops, grist mill, meeting house, etc.

Our lunch in the raftered Great Room of the Village Tavern was informal and robust and smacked of old-fashioned New England kitchens. The menu:

Baked Beans
Old-Fashioned Chicken Pie
Small Coddish Cakes
Escalloped Potatoes
Home Baked Ham
Garden Salad

Relishes:
Mustard Pickle, Red Pepper Relish, Spiced Crab Apples, Cottage Cheese,
Spiced Black Cherry Preserve, Spiced Watermelon Rind, Homemade Rye Bread and Corn Sticks

For Dessert:
Choice of Baked Indian Pudding With Heavy Cream,
Hot Two-Crust Apple Pie with

Cheddar Cheese

or

Maple Butternut Cake
John Wetteland, chef of the Public House and in charge of the food in Old Sturbridge Village, too, gave us his chicken pie recipe.

OLD-FASHIONED CHICKEN PIE (Serves 6—either 1 large baking dish or 6 individual casseroles)
Boil 5-pound chicken until tender with onion, celery, carrot, salt and pepper. When cooked, remove chicken and cut into large pieces. Make gravy with the following ingredients:

6 cups chicken stock—bring to boil—thicken with following:
Melt 6 tablespoons margarine
Add 6 tablespoons flour. Cook until thickened

Add 2 tablespoons Chablis wine and season with salt and pepper. Darken with kitchen bouquet. Pour gravy over chicken in 8x12x2-inch baking dish and top with pastry cover made of:

3 cups pastry flour
13 cups shortening
1 teaspoon salt
Mix well and add sufficient milk to make paste. Bake at 375 degrees F., until chicken and gravy are sizzling hot and pastry is nicely browned.

Reports on Medicine Tests Will Vary With Conditions

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Written For NEA

I have before me two reports that deal with the activities of closely related germ killers. They are contradictory. Yet each is correct. It may be important for you to understand how this is possible.

The first is a laboratory report that describes the germ-killing properties of a popular soap. It includes a most impressive chart that shows how the contained germicide prevents the growth of a large number of bacterial species, including the golden staphylococcus that's been responsible for so many hospital infections.

The second is a clinical report from Walter Reed Army Hospital. Its chart lists 11 post-operative infections, all resulting in the death of a patient, due to bacterial contamination of a solution of a related germicide.

How is it possible for both reports to be correct?

The explanation is quite simple. The first report was based on experiments performed under ideal laboratory conditions.

CROP Ships 41 Carloads Of Grain From Illinois

By Dorothy Sauer
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone Pioneer 2-3439)

WINCHESTER — Rev. Elvin D. Frantz, director of CROP for the Illinois Council of Churches, has announced that a total of 41 carloads of corn was collected and shipped by CROP in Illinois during 1960. This is an increase of 31 cars from the preceding year. Top ranking county in the state in contributions was McLean with Ogle coming in a close second.

Each county collected corn and cash valued at more than $7,000. The total Illinois contributions translated into corn value would have exceeded 200,000 bushels.

The total contributions received in Scott County was $875. Robert Reid and Willett Pierce were co-chairmen of the CROP drive in the county and were assisted in the drive by Rev. Crawford Harmon, president of the organization in the county, and Dale Hewitt.

The food and money collected by CROP is made available to Church World Service and other church agencies who are helping to feed the refugees in the Congo, the Middle East, Hong Kong, and in many other areas of our world. Those who have given to CROP share in the thrill of helping to use the abundance from America to help build friendship and understanding in areas of tension.

Another session of western style square dance lessons for students of the upper grades of the Winchester Elementary School will be held this Saturday evening, 7:30 p.m., in the Legion Hall. The series of lessons is being sponsored by the youth center. Adult chaperones are urged to attend.

The regular dance session for the members of the "Scott Square" Aders Dance Club will be held Sunday evening, Jan. 22, in the Legion Hall commencing at 7:30 p.m. until 11 p.m. Max Roberts of Griggsville is the caller for the dance sessions.

The secretary will be present at this session and the semi-annual dues for 1961 will be payable at that time. If those persons who have not received their dance pins are present they will be distributed. Anyone who has recently graduated from the adult beginner's lessons may join the "Square" Aders' Club at that time if they desire.

AT 90th BIRTHDAY DINNER

Dr. Sherwood Eddy, internationally famed author and social and religious leader, is shown seated on the right at a dinner given in recognition of his ninetieth birthday. His grandson, Adren K. Smith of San Francisco, and his wife, Louise Gates Eddy, are seated with him.

Standing are Dr. Patrick Murphy Malin, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union, New York, principal speaker for the occasion, and Dr. Gordon E. Michalson, president of MacMurray College, toastmaster.

Dr. Sherwood Eddy Honored By Friends On 90th Birthday

Friends of Dr. Sherwood Eddy from far and near joined in honoring him Thursday on the occasion of his ninetieth birthday. At a dinner at the Dunlap Hotel birthday messages from all parts of the globe were received.

Dr. Gordon E. Michalson, president of MacMurray College, acted as toastmaster. He presented Carl H. Holdridge of Boston, who brought official greetings from the American Board of Commissioners of the Congregational Church, under whose auspices Dr. Eddy first commenced his work in India in 1896.

A tribute from the Y.M.C.A. was presented by Joel Nystrom of New York. Secretary of the International Committee of that organization, honoring Dr. Eddy as one of the great world leaders of the "Y."

Dr. Malin Principal Speaker. Featured speaker of the evening was a former secretary and co-worker of Dr. Eddy, Dr. Patrick Murphy Malin, now the executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union, who discussed the subject, "Religion and Government."

Among many congratulatory letters was one from Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, famed U.S. theologian. He wrote:

"I don't know of any American who has accomplished so much by honesty, vitality and absolute dedication to Christ and his cause. You conceived that cause to include help for the oppressed, guidance to new nations, enlightenment to our own powerful nation, missionary zeal in all the world. What a life of usefulness you have lived!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

There is some doubt among scholars that Betsy Ross made the first U.S. flag. These scholars contend that its principal designer probably was Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, who later tried unsuccessfully to get paid for his work.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

JUMP BID IS NOT FORCING

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Playing at four hearts, South will ruff the second diamond, and lay down the ace and king of trumps. When the queen fails to drop, he will lead a club toward dummy and eventually establish two club tricks in dummy and get rid of his losing spade.

The contract was a good one to start with since it would have been a lay down if the queen of trumps had dropped and still made due to the favorable position of the club ace.

What has this hand got to do with the Jacoby-Smith system?

In most American systems South would merely rebid to two hearts over his partner's call of one spade. Most North players would pass and game would be missed.

Why wouldn't everyone bid three hearts? Because in standard American three hearts is a force to game and South does not want to commit the hand to game on the mere basis of his partner's opening club bid and spade rebid.

In Jacoby-Smith, the three heart bid is strongly invitational but it is not a force. Actually, the South hand is worth a Jacoby-Smith three heart bid because the singleton is in the unbid diamond suit. Put the singleton in either club or spade and South's bid would be two hearts only.

A—Bid five hearts only. Tell the bid and try to leave you cold. A discard on your partner's set of clubs is not going to help you, hand at all.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You still hold this hand. Your partner's rebid over your jump to two spades is three clubs. What do you do?

Millikin Choir To Sing Jan. 23 At Carrollton

CARROLLTON—The Millikin University Choir of Decatur will present a concert at the Carrollton Community Unit high school Jan. 23 at 8 p.m., sponsored jointly by the high school and the Carrollton Ministerial Alliance.

The choir is on its annual tour and is composed of 50 university students under the direction of Richard D. Hoffland, chairman of the Sacred Music Department and choral director of the Millikin University School of Music.

Singing entirely a cappella, the choir will present a program ranging from the 16th century chorales and the music of Bach to contemporary composition.

There will be no admission charge but a free will offering will be taken.

REQUEST REJECTED
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—A man ejected from a local rescue mission called police and asked to be put in jail for the night.

Police told him they could arrest him for vagrancy but he'd have to spend several days in jail.

"No thanks," he replied, "I'll just leave town."

Nominate Three In Sweetheart Queen Contest

JERSEYVILLE—Candidates for the post of "Sweetheart Queen of 1961" have been selected by the Jersey County Rural Youth, and the young woman winning the title will receive her crown in coronation ceremonies at a dance to be held Feb. 11 at the Holy Ghost parish hall in Jerseyville.

The queen candidates are Misses Betty Bechtold, Judy Wheaton and Mary Frances Brakeville.

Miss Bechtold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bechtold of Elsie, is a graduate of the Jersey Community high school and is employed in the office of Miller Mutual Insurance Company in Alton.

Miss Wheaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wheaton of Fieldon, also a graduate of the local high school, holds a secretarial post with Baughman Mfg. Company in Jerseyville.

Miss Brakeville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brakeville, of Jerseyville, is a senior this year at the Jersey Community high school.

Two other seniors at the local high school have been selected as candlelighters for the coronation event. They are Miss Sharon Cory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans have before them today two views on the increasingly acute question: How's business?

They should find a general idea of the incoming president's views in his inaugural address—with specifics that will affect business, labor, and taxpayers expected to be set forth shortly in special messages to Congress.

They have the views of the outgoing administration summed up in the final economic report to Congress by President Eisenhower.

As usual the outgoing president is cautious. He avoids calling the present state of business a recession, but rather an economic slowdown due soon to reverse itself without much prodding from government.

Incoming President Kennedy's views have been foreshadowed by task force reports that add up to spending many more billions of dollars to get things humming again.

But many businessmen have considered these reports trial balloons seeking public reaction. The reports outline things in many fields that we'd like to have if we could afford them.

These businessmen have felt that they'd have to wait and see just how far along that road President Kennedy and the new Congress would go in handling both the situation and the problem of just how much more economic growth the government should try to stimulate on a hurry-up schedule. And some of his Cabinet appointments seem to promise caution.

But the conflict in the two views are clear.

President Eisenhower's economic summation stresses that the business slackness is largely one of a stock-cutting trend in industry which he thinks must soon reverse itself. And he says that without these inventory cutbacks, the rest of the economy is ahead of last year.

He thinks the latest spurt in our loss of gold is due mainly to the outflow of capital seeking short-term gains from higher yields in foreign money markets currently offering higher interest payments.

The Eisenhower view is that this year's rise in exports over imports shows that in general our trade relations are healthy and that this will prevail over short-term capital flights.

The outgoing president's views are in the face of a recent outpouring of unpleasant official statistics.

Unemployment is rising. Industrial output has been falling and is well below a year ago. Personal income is down after months of steady climbing. The zip has gone out of the increase in retail sales.

Profit margins for many corporations are squeezed far below year ago figures. The loss of gold—with attendant uncertainties

How Do Books Differ?—

President Takes Oath On 'Catholic Bible First Time In History Of Nation

By JULES LOH
Associated Press Writer

For the first time in history a president of the United States today takes the oath of office with his hand on a Douay-Rheims version of the Bible—the "Catholic Bible," as some call it.

How is it different from the King James version—the "Protestant Bible?"

According to biblical scholars there is little difference in substance, though much in interpretation. So close is the agreement on language the day may be near when there will be a common Bible. Scholars of the major faiths are at work on the project now.

The main difference is arrangement of certain writings Catholics regard as canonical and include in the Old Testament but which Protestants regard as apocrypha—not divinely inspired.

These are books the Jews of Palestine rejected toward the end of the first century A.D. on the grounds they did not conform to Mosaic law.

Christians did not recognize them as inspired until the fifth century, and after the Reformation Protestants again rejected them.

The Church of England, which produced the King James version, considered the books at least edifying. Four years after the "authorized" version appeared in 1611, Archbishop George Abbott of Canterbury threatened to send to jail for a year any publisher who failed to include the apocrypha—grouped separately between Old and New Testaments.

The King James version was so called because James VI, unhappy with current translations, commissioned 47 scholars to make a new effort. The result, dedicated "to the high and mighty Prince James," became known as the "authorized version"—though it never was formally authorized either by the English Church or Parliament.

The Douay-Rheims version was the Roman Church's first authorized translation into English. The New Testament was published at the English College of Rheims in 1582 and the Old Testament at Douay, France, in 1609.

Both Catholic and Protestant versions later were modernized several times, and the Bibles familiar to most persons today rarely are in the archaic idiom of the original works.

See Greenfield New Church In Use By Easter

GREENFIELD—Rev. Robert J. Harwood of the Greenfield Area Methodist churches announces that the subject of the sermon for Sunday, will be from the Gospel according to Matthew, "We forgot to bring the bread."

Rev. Harwood states that the heating plant in the new church building in Greenfield is nearing readiness to provide warmth to carry on interior construction work, and with a goal of being able to use the church for the first time on Easter Sunday.

Kennedy Invites World In Quest For Peace

Kennedy, at 43 the youngest man ever elected president, said he knows neither he nor anyone else alive today may live to see "the new world of law" he envisions.

"But let us begin," he said, by trying to achieve "a beach-head of cooperation . . . in the jungles of suspicion."

The note he sounded during his campaign, of young men setting out again to push back a frontier, echoed throughout a speech devoted in almost every word to the problems that haunt a peace-seeking world, rather than to domestic issues.

"Let the world go forth," he proclaimed early in the address, "that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a cold and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage, and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed."

Then the new President made these pledges to the peoples outside the Iron Curtain—pledges, as contrasted with what he termed the "request" for a joint effort with the other camp:

"To old Allies whose cultural and spiritual origins we share . . . the loyalty of faithful friends . . . we dare not meet a powerful challenge at odds and split asunder."

To the states emerging from colonial status, "our word that one form of colonial control shall not have passed merely to be replaced by a far more iron tyranny."

To these same states, assurance that "we shall not always expect to find them supporting our every view," but a bit of advice too:

"In the past, those who foolishly sought to find power by riding on the tiger's back inevitably ended up inside."

"To those peoples in the huts and villages of half the world struggling to break the bonds of mass misery . . . our best efforts to help them help themselves . . . not because the Communists are doing it, not because we seek their votes, but because it is right. If the free society cannot help the many who are poor, it can never save the few who are rich."

To the other American republics "a special pledge—to convert our good words to good deeds in a new alliance for progress—to assist free men and free governments in casting off the chains of poverty. But this peaceful revolution tion of hope cannot become the prey of hostile powers."

Kennedy added a particular pledge to the United Nations, "our last best hope in an age where the instruments of war have far outpaced the instruments of peace."

To the international organization whose halls resounded during the past year with denunciations shouted by Soviet Premier Khrushchev and lesser communists, the President said: "we renew our pledge of support, to prevent its becoming merely a forum for invective, to strengthen its shield of the new and the weak, and to enlarge the area to which its writ may run."

At length Kennedy addressed himself soberly to "those nations who make themselves our adversary."

"We offer not a pledge but a request—that both sides begin anew the quest for peace before the dark powers of destruction unleashed by science engulf all humanity in planned or accidental self-destruction."

"Let both sides join to invoke the wonders of science instead of its terrors. Together let us explore the stars, conquer the deserts, eradicate disease, tap the ocean depths and encourage the arts and commerce."

Kennedy said both the East and West are "overburdened by the cost of modern weapons, both rightly alarmed by the steady spread of the deadly atom, yet both racing to alter that uncertain balance of terror that stays the hand of mankind's final war."

He compressed his message to friends, adversaries and fellow-Americans in 1,348 words of prepared text, not much more than half the average length of previous inaugural addresses—2,499.

His plea to Americans to "ask what you can do for your country" came near the end. He couched it with a plea to "my fellow citizens of the world—ask not what America will do for you, but what together we can do for the freedom of man."

Kennedy told his fellow citizens: "In your hands . . . more than in mine, will rest the final success or failure of our course."

"The trumpet summons us again—not as a call to bear arms, but as a call to bear the burden of a long twilight struggle . . . against the common enemies of man: tyranny, poverty, disease and war itself."

"Can we forge against these enemies a grand and global alliance, North and South, East and West, that can assure a more fruitful life for all mankind? Will you join in that historic effort?"

He invited the whole world, as well as America, to "ask of us the same high standards of strength and sacrifice that we shall ask of you."

And he rested his plea: "With a good conscience our only sure reward, with history the final judge of our deeds, let us go forth to lead the land we love, asking its blessing and its help, and knowing that here on earth God's work must truly be our own."

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged higher in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .60 at 230.00 with the industrials up .70, rails down .30, and utilities up .70.

Wall Streeters were kept away from the city by a heavy snowstorm which snarled transportation and by strikes on some of the commuter rail lines. The presidential inauguration was another factor which distracted attention.

After a mixed start, the market moved to the upside under the leadership of utilities and selected industrials.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.64 at 634.03. Corporate bonds were mixed in light trading. U.S. governments were quiet and unchanged.

TRADE IN GRAINS HOLDS SLUMP PACE

CHICAGO (AP)—Trade in grain futures was at its slowest pace of the week today with prices mixed and generally little changed.

Soybeans, which eased about two cents in early dealings, were drags and in a mixed range most of the time. Rye was strong and new crop wheat a bit firmer.

Brokers said the activity in the soybean pit was slower than it had been at any time since the strong bull market began early in December.

They said it may be an indication that the broadly fluctuating commodity has settled into a limited price range for the present, at least.

At noon, soybeans were 1/4 cent a bushel lower to 1/2 higher, January $2.43; wheat 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, March $2.10 1/2; corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, March $1.14 1/2; oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, March 65 1/2; rye 1/4-1/2 higher, March $1.13 1/2.

Soybeans closed 1/4 to 2 1/2 cents a bushel lower, January $2.41 1/2-40 1/2; wheat 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, March $2.11-10 1/2; corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, March $1.11 1/2-1/4; oats 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, March 65 1/2-1/4; rye 1/4 to 1/2 higher, March $1.13 1/2-1/4.

STEVENS BRIEFED ON U.N. PROBLEMS

UNITED NATIONS N. Y. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson was briefed Thursday on United Nations problems facing the U.S. delegation which he soon will head, then he flew to Washington for John F. Kennedy's inauguration.

His predecessor Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, paid a farewell call on U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and gave him a $5-million check as a U.S. contribution to a voluntary U.N. aid fund for the Congo.

Stevenson, Democratic candidate for president in 1952 and 1956, will take over the U.N. delegation next week as U.S. permanent representative. He expects to see the delegation and double the number of ambassadors from two to four.

He told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday that since the United Nations had grown from its original 51 to its present 99 member countries, "we are by no means staffed to keep in effective touch" with the other delegations.

DIES AS CAR HITS LIGHT

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Harry C. Jennings, 35, manager of the Danville office of a trucking firm, was killed today when his automobile rammed into a signal light on Memorial Bridge in Danville. Jennings formerly lived at 1226 N. New St. in Springfield. He moved to Danville about six months ago.

Nixon Steers Republican Party To Middle Of Road

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard M. Nixon pointed Thursday to a middle road course for the Republican party, from which he intimated he might seek the GOP presidential nomination again in 1964.

Nixon, who leaves office as vice president Friday, announced at a press conference that he is negotiating to join a Los Angeles law firm. He did not name the firm.

He and his wife, Pat, take off Saturday for Nassau for a month's vacation. They will go to California shortly after their return to seek a new home. The Nixons will remain in their Washington home until June, when their two daughters complete the school year.

Questioned as to whether he plans to seek a second presidential nomination four years from now, Nixon replied:

"I have no plans at the present time to run for any office in 1968 or 1969. I have no organization for 1968, but that doesn't mean I am ruling out any possibility of being a candidate."

"Nixon made it clear he intends to be active in the role as titular head of his party."

He said he plans to write and speak in an effort to build up the party, particularly in the metropolitan areas which generally went against him in the November election, in the South and among young people in the colleges.

Otherwise, Nixon said his primary concern will be a continuing study of world affairs. He said he plans travel abroad later.

The retiring vice president said he doesn't believe his defeat in the presidential election will swing the Republican party either to the right or to the left.

Potential rivals for the 1964 nomination, should he seek it, are Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, regarded as a liberal, and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, an avowed conservative.

Nixon said he thinks most Republicans agree with the economic philosophy he expressed in the campaign—a philosophy he said put primary emphasis on private enterprise instead of big government.

The show is being produced by the C-B-S news department which is headed by a former editor of the Cairo Evening Citizen, Sig Mickelson.

Mickelson worked one summer as Citizen editor in the early 1940s.

Mickelson's wife is the former Maybelle Brown of Cairo.

St. Louis Rites For Dr. Dooley

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Funeral services for Dr. Thomas A. Dooley, who gained worldwide attention for his battle against disease and ignorance in Southeast Asia, will be at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the St. Louis Cathedral.

The medical missionary, 34, died of cancer Wednesday night at Memorial Hospital in New York. A spokesman for the family said the body would arrive in St. Louis Thursday night. It will lie in state from Friday until Sunday evening.

Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

POWER COMPANIES ASK INVESTIGATION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Two power companies asked the Illinois Commerce Commission Thursday for permission to investigate records of four Southern Illinois electric cooperatives.

Illinois Power Co. and Central Illinois Public Service Co. have asked the ICC to declare the four co-ops public utilities and make them subject to commission jurisdiction.

"We are seeking these documents because we believe they will bear out our claim that each of the cooperatives is already operating as a public utility," a spokesman for the companies said.

The co-ops are Egyptian Electric Cooperative Assn., Steelville; Southern Illinois Electric Cooperative, Dongola; Southeastern Illinois Electric Cooperative, Eldorado; and Southern Illinois Power Cooperative, Marion.

The latter co-op was organized by the other three to construct a $26 million power plant near Marion.

WISH KENNEDY WELL

LONDON (AP)—Newspapers of Britain and Western Europe gave John F. Kennedy their best editorial wishes today, and most of them expressed high hopes for the outcome of his leadership.

Even Communist and other left-wing organs cautiously suggested that his inauguration may bring a change for the better in international relations.

FUEL TAX SHARE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A $4,001,080 share of motor fuel taxes for December was allotted to Illinois municipalities, the state finance department reported today.

RETURNS TO GUARD DUTY

VANDALIA, Ill. (AP)—Gale Williams will return to his job as captain of the guards at the Vandalia state penitentiary after 13 months as acting warden.

Williams has been on leave from guard duties since he was named assistant warden in March 1958. He was appointed acting warden in December 1959.

QUEEN BEGINS TOUR

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, Prince Philip, flew out of London today to begin a 20,000-mile Asian tour. Royal visits to India, Pakistan, Nepal and Iran will keep them away from Britain until March 6.

Appears Winter To Make Lengthy Stay In Illinois

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winter's return engagement to Illinois appeared today to be set for a long run. Temperatures during the next five days were expected to average up to 15 degrees below normal.

The mercury fell to near zero across northern counties before dawn, and a repeat performance was on tap tonight. Lows included 4 at Peoria, 5 at Moline, 7 at Rockford and 8 at Chicago. Readings ranged as low as 15 in the south at Belleville.

Failure of temperatures to climb over freezing in northern and central sections Thursday maintained scattered icy spots on many highways. Highs ranged from 25 at Quincy to 35 at Belleville.

The five-day forecast indicated northern Illinois can expect frequent periods of light snow.

Jewish Groups Disagree With Spellman Views

NEW YORK (AP)—Five national Jewish organizations disagreed today with Francis Cardinal Spellman's recent remarks on federal aid to church schools.

The Jewish religious and civic bodies said distributing such funds to other than public schools would violate both public opinion and the U.S. constitution.

A statement was issued jointly by the American Jewish Congress, Jewish Labor Committee, Jewish War Veterans, Union of American Hebrew Congregations (reform), and United Synagogue of America (conservative).

The cardinal, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, had aroused Protestant leaders by saying at an archdiocesan meeting last Tuesday that plans for federal school aid would be unfair if the money went only to public schools and not to church-operated schools.

An education task force of the incoming Kennedy administration called for a $9.3-billion program of federal aid to education. Cardinal Spellman's remarks followed.

The Jewish groups said they do not consider exclusion of Jewish religious schools from federal aid programs discriminatory.

"We deem the maintenance and furtherance of the Jewish religion to be the responsibility of the Jewish community, a responsibility which we have no desire to impose either in whole or in part upon the American taxpayer," their statement said.

AH! THE LUCK OF THE IRISH

WASHINGTON (AP)—A couple of men with Irish names visited the White House Thursday on special missions: John Fitzgerald Kennedy to prepare for a new job and Timothy O'Sullivan to deliver President Eisenhower's last pay checks.

With Kennedy scheduled to take the presidential oath at noon Friday, Eisenhower collected salary and expenses for 19 1/2 days in January. Before deductions, the final payments totaled $8,125.

The presidential salary is $100,000 a year plus $50,000 for expenses. Both are subject to income taxes and are payable in 12 monthly installments.

Ever since January 1957, O'Sullivan has been the courier who carried Eisenhower's checks to the White House. He has delivered the presidential offices from the Treasury annex, a block away.

The checks are not delivered directly.

Award Contract For Building Of Prison At Marion

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $7,970,000 contract for construction of a new federal penitentiary at Marion, Ill., has been awarded to Blount Brothers Construction Co. of Montgomery, Ala., the low bidder on the project.

The General Services Administration, which awarded the contract Thursday, estimated construction will take about two years. It will be the first new federal prison in 20 years.

Construction of the maximum security facility was delayed when bids opened in October were rejected by the GSA. The agency said they exceeded the $8 million available for construction.

Congress appropriated $10 million for the prison. About $2 million was spent for site preparation. Construction costs were trimmed for the second bid-letting by eliminating some features proposed by the Bureau of Prisons.

The bureau plans to open the prison with 600 inmates, but has indicated it may be expanded later to handle about 1,000.

RECOMMEND MURDER CHARGE IN FATAL SHOOTING OF THREE

CHICAGO (AP)—A coroner's jury has recommended holding Raymond (Red) Bush, 32, to the grand jury on a murder charge in the fatal shooting of his estranged wife and two men last Sunday.

Bush was present at the hearing Thursday, but was asked only his name and address. He has denied the charge.

However, police said he was identified as the assailant by his estranged wife, Grace, 30, before she died of a gunshot wound.

The shooting took place in the apartment of one of the victims, William Ostler, 30.

The third person fatally wounded was Claude A. Colvill, 44.

SOVIETS TO STRESS SCIENCE IN FARMING MOSCOW (AP)—The Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party today approved Premier Khrushchev's call for a major reorganization of the management of the nation's vast farming program, with increased emphasis on scientific methods.

As a start, the committee called for a new plan for irrigating millions of acres of farmland in hopes of offsetting setbacks from bad weather and bad management.

QUEEN BEGINS TOUR LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, Prince Philip, flew out of London today to begin a 20,000-mile Asian tour. Royal visits to India, Pakistan, Nepal and Iran will keep them away from Britain until March 6.

LEOPARD LOSES BIG CHANCE FOR ROLE IN OPERA

By ANTHONY WHITE
LONDON (AP)—Shapur the leopard seems to have lost his chance for a slink-on role in opera.

He bit the tenor.

"I don't think this leopard is a suitable stage partner," said the singer, Charles Craig.

Sadler's Wells Opera House next Wednesday will present a new production of Strauss' opera "Ariadne auf Naxos." Craig will sing the role of the god Bacchus, who in mythology is usually accompanied by a leopard.

The 140-pounder from Bengal seemed amiable enough, and Craig stroked him to introduce himself.

Shapur blinked, sniffed—and bit the tenor on the arm.

It wasn't a bad bite, but Craig complained: "He hadn't even heard me sing when he bit me. Goodness knows what he would do with a full orchestra and singers in full blast."

The audition was not a complete success, a spokesman for the company admitted. The leopard uttered only one note—a low growl. That seemed more ominous than operative.

"It was only intended that the leopard should appear for a short time in the last act. But we may have to change our plans now."

Ike Gets To Work At 7:15 On Last Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—On his last day in the White House, President Eisenhower got to work at 7:15 a.m. to finish up last-minute correspondence.

He was up at 6:15, had his usual breakfast of orange juice, a rare steak, toast and coffee.

Since the office was being painted, he shifted his activities to the Cabinet Room.

There was a full house at the White House Thursday night. Between 30 and 35 members of the White House staff, unable to get home because of the snowstorm, were up for the night.

Eisenhower showed up in informal attire. He wore gray slacks, a salt-and-pepper sport's jacket and a gray bow tie.

Eisenhower allowed himself quarters of the White House to prepare for the 11 a.m. arrival of his successor, John F. Kennedy. He had invited Kennedy to have coffee with him before their departure together for Capitol Hill for Kennedy's inauguration.

Eisenhower, after dictating to his personal secretary, Ann Whitman, went to the mess room in the White House basement to say farewell to the Filipino stewards and engage in a bit of final chitchat with them. While he was in the mess, members of the White House staff dropped in.

Returning to the Cabinet Room, Eisenhower signed the mail he had dictated earlier.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, related that Eisenhower called Kennedy personally at 8 p.m. Thursday to suggest he come to the White House early so they could have coffee.

Hagerty said the Eisenhowers, despite the snowstorm, still planned to leave for their home near Gettysburg, Pa., in mid-afternoon.

After the inaugural, their scheduled luncheon in the honor given by Lewis L. Strauss, secretary of the Atomic Energy Commission and Atomic Energy Committee chairman. Invited were members of the Cabinet and their wives plus some members of the White House staff. About 35 were expected.

SOME DAYS YOU JUST CAN'T WIN—EVEN WITH A GUN

CHICAGO (AP)—Some days you can't make a dollar—even at the point of a gun.

The young man approached the box office window, said Mrs. Fannie Timmons, 25, theatre cashier, and thrust a note and a paper bag at her. Then, she said, this dialogue ensued:

"This is a holdup. Put the money in the brown bag or I'll shoot."

Mrs. Timmons, staring down the muzzle of a nickel-plated revolver, replied: "Go ahead and shoot."

"I have a family and I need the money," he pleaded.

"I have a family too," she retorted.

Triopia Visits ISD; Jacks Out Of Town

IC Blueboys, Mac Murray On Home Courts Saturday, Rout At Chandlerville

Twice-beaten Triopia invades the Illinois School for Deaf gymnasium Friday night for a PMSC Conference date with Coach Jim Bonds' winless Tigers. Jacksonville High is the other local quintet seeing action tonight and it engages Eisenhower's Panthers at Decatur.

WLD5-FM Sports-On-Parade with Barney Lewis and Jerry Cassens will carry the Eisenhower-JHS contest starting at eight o'clock.

Triopia has triumphed in 10 of its 12 starts losing only to Auburn and to Routt, 52-49, last Friday night. The Trojans have had a week off while ISD dropped its 10th decision of the year Tuesday night to Mercedia-Chambersburg, 41-30. The Trojans, Charles Roegge, Earl Dufelmeier, Kent Hansmeier and Wendel Harbin are the regular Trojan starters.

Saturday night is a busy one for college followers. Quincy College is at Illinois College for an 8:00 p.m. tilt and the Blueboys are looking for their fourth win in 11 outings. Lewis takes on Bill Wall's MacMurray Highlanders in the Hardin Ave. fieldhouse at 8:00 p.m. The Highlanders have captured 10 wins in 14 attempts.

Coach Bob Winstead's Rockets travel to Chandlerville Saturday night for a PMSC affair. The Rockets are looking for their fourth straight win, their sixth without a loss in the conference and their 12th in 16 starts. Chandlerville is playing better than 500 ball, winning seven and losing six. Winstead will probably go with his usual starters, Fred Curtis, Jack Lawless, Ed Carroll, Joe Cors and Bucky Sullivan.

JHS On Road Jacksonville High seeks its second straight win and its fourth of the year in a contest at Decatur against an inexperienced Eisenhower aggregation Friday. The Crimson snapped an eight-game losing streak in a 61-41 win over Robinson last Saturday in the Bowl. The Jacks are 5-10 for the year while Coach Joe Russell's Panthers are 4-5.

Jacksonville's 12-man roster was trimmed to ten this week when Charlie Black, Jono Hinder and Gary Spangenberg, a two-year letterman, turned in their gear. All three are seniors.

Coach John Chapman doesn't plan to move anyone up to take their places and will probably finish up the season with the ten-man squad composed of Chip Baldwin, Ron Yates, Ken Norton, Bill Sims, Ron Tomhave, Tom Oxley, Mike Mentler, John Waga, Stan Ferguson and Bill Stanford.

A common foe of the two teams this season has been MacArthur. The Generals whipped JHS, 76-57, but barely nudged Eisenhower, 48-43.

Coach Russell usually starts Terry Jones, 5-8, Richard Juse, 6-3, Lynn McCrory, 6-3, Rocky Cook, 5-11, and Steve Albera, 5-10. Cook is the only experienced player in the lineup, having seen action as a substitute guard last year. All are seniors with the exception of Albera, who is a junior. Juse is playing his first season of basketball.

The Blueboys face a mythical dividing point Saturday evening when they host Quincy College's Hawks. Last week's win over Blackburn, 57-50, saw the Mound Ave. five pick up some fitness which they had been lacking and causing some serious doubts as to the eventual win-loss prospects for this season.

Cubs Receive Three More Signed Pacts

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs Thursday received the contracts of three more players, bringing the total signed for 1961 to 28.

The latest received were those of catcher Walt Bales, infielder Sam Drake and pitcher Ben Johnson.

Bales was with Morriston, Tenn., in the Appalachian League last year and hit .307 with six homers and 41 RBIs. Drake was with Houston in the American Association, San Antonio in the Texas League and the Cubs last year. He hit .219 with Houston, .318 with San Antonio and .067 in 16 games with the Cubs. Johnson was 2 and 1 with the Cubs with a 4.97 earned run average and at Houston won 7 and lost 5 with a 3.74 ERA.

Kerner Opposes Cage Franchise To Pittsburgh

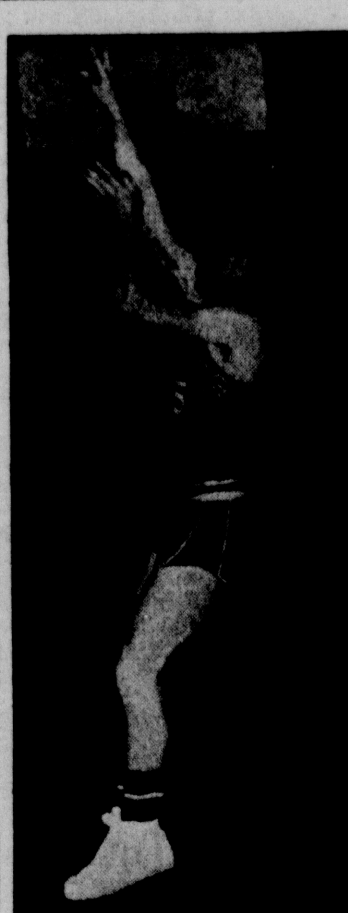

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Owner Ben Kerner of the St. Louis Hawks declared Thursday he is unalterably opposed to granting a National Basketball Association franchise to Pittsburgh promoter Lenny Litman "or anyone else in Pittsburgh at this time."

Kerner, a member of the NBA's expansion committee and board of governors, said Litman's claim that the NBA contacted Litman about a possible franchise as "a little twisted."

"Litman has been calling the NBA office," Kerner said angrily. "His story is a little twisted. It's a shame that we have to get involved in this type of controversy since as far as I am concerned I'm not interested in what Mr. Litman is or isn't going to do."

Litman entered the expansion picture Wednesday after John Harris withdrew his Pittsburgh entry from the NBA less than 24 hours after he was granted the franchise.

There are more than 5,700 golf courses of regulation size in the United States.

Jim Costello suffered a knee injury in the Blackburn game last Saturday night and may be lost for the season. The former Routt cager slipped and went down hard on the court possibly tearing a ligament in his knee. The extent of the injury and how long he will be lost to the squad has not yet been determined but there is no chance for his playing against the Hawks Saturday night.

Junior College Drops Football

LA SALLE, Ill. (AP)—La Salle-Peru-Oglesby Junior College today abandoned football because it costs too much.

The school belongs to the Illinois Junior College Conference and won 9 football titles in the past 15 years. The football deficit last season was $3,500 and $2,000 the prior season.

Dick Casten, grid coach the past two seasons, will be re-assigned to coaching in the La Salle-Peru high school system. The school will retain its basketball program.

Our Saviour's Win PMSC Grade School Title

ARENZVILLE — The Our Saviour's Shamrocks out scored Chapin 9-1 in the third quarter and easily captured the first place trophy in the PMSC grade school tournament, 31-19. The Shamrocks, coached by Father Alvin, led by only one point at halftime, 10-9 but pulled away from the Chapin grade school quintet for their ninth win in 11 outings.

Leo Carroll topped the winners' scoring with 10 points but was followed closely by McGinnis and Schickendanz with eight points each. Werries was the top point producer for Don Kemp's crew with 10.

In the battle for third place, Bluffs outscored a game Arenzville aggregate 31-25.

WHERE'S THE BALL?

The round ball was lost somewhere in the congested gathering of Bluffs and Griggsville players Thursday night in the semifinals of the 39th annual Winchester Invitational Tournament. Griggsville didn't make a field goal in the final six minutes and 39 seconds of play but hit 11 free throws to upset second seeded Bluffs, 64-58. Ronnie Goocher (dark jersey) runs into teammate Jim Allen while Bluffs' Gary Bangert (left), Audrey Gregory (54), Lee Fredrick (43) and Jim Cox (right) look for the missing oval, shaped object.

EVERYTHING'S JUST FINE!

Two happy Griggsville cheerleaders approve of the Tornadoes' 64-58 victory over Bluffs but the losing yell-leader has tears in her eyes as she seeks someone to console her. It didn't take her long as Bluejay fans couldn't believe their team had just dropped its second loss in 14 games.

Johansson Seeks Training Site

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson arrived here by plane Thursday to look for a camp where he will train for his third title bout with World Heavyweight Boxing Champion Floyd Patterson.

Earlier Thursday in New York the two fighters had signed an "agreement" to meet. Their bout is scheduled March 13 in Miami Beach Auditorium.

Johansson was greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Gustav von Reis, long-time friends. Johansson said he would stay with his friends a few days and Friday would begin looking for a site for his training camp.

North Carolina Cagers Rile Coach McGuire

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP) — Coach Frank McGuire was unhappy over the performance of his University of North Carolina basketball team in its victory at Maryland last Monday night.

The twice-beaten Tar Heels won 56-52 for their ninth success in a row. Scoring twins Doug Moe and York Larese combined for 43 points, but the rest of the team accounted for only four baskets.

This prompted the New York Irishman to make a speech Tuesday afternoon as his sixth-ranked club prepared for Wednesday's game with North Carolina State.

"We practiced only about 15 minutes—I spent about an hour dressing them down," McGuire revealed Thursday.

"I told them to stop standing around admiring Moe and Larese and play and give them some help," he continued.

Wednesday night North Carolina bombed State 97-66. It was the worst defeat for an Everett Case state team since he assumed charge of the Wolfpack in 1947.

Moe and Larese each scored 27 points, but they got 10-basket help from the supporting cast, including 30 points by Jim Hudock, a 6-foot-7, 220-pound senior.

Ernie Broglio completed 9 of 24 starts and finished 14 games in relief while taking 21 decisions for the Cardinals last year.

By STAN SPOTTS

WINCHESTER — The host Wildcats and Griggsville's Tornadoes moved into the finals of the 39th annual Winchester Invitational Tournament Friday night and it promises to be quite a battle if their December 2 meeting is of any significance. Winchester beat Griggsville in a double overtime, 63-61, in the only meeting between the two quintets this season.

Winchester took advantage of no Greenfield field goals in the second quarter to post its 15th consecutive victory, 55-38, and fourth-seeded Griggsville used the charity line to upset second-ranked Bluffs in the nightcap, 64-58. Both teams had 21 field goals apiece but the Tornadoes sank 22 of 30 charity awards to decide a close outcome. Griggsville went the final six minutes and 39 seconds without a field goal but put its final 11 points on the scoreboard on free throws to annex victory number ten in 15 outings.

Close First Quarter
Coach Ken Abell's Tigers gave Winchester a run for the victory in the first period of the opening game Thursday night. The score was tied twice in the opening 4:15 of play until Greenfield broke a 5-5 deadlock and went ahead, 9-5, on buckets by Wellhausen and Rives.

Winchester came back to knot the score at 9-all on baskets by Dewey Savage and John Schofield but the losers moved ahead on a charity award by Rathgeber with 2:05 left. A Brookhouse bucket gave Winchester a short lived lead as Wellhausen connected from the top of the key-hole to give Greenfield its final lead of the game, 12-11, with 1:02 remaining. Winchester went out in front to stay the rest of the way on a fast break layup by Dewey Savage with five seconds left to play. The slow Wildcats were just that to open the game as they hit only one of their first ten attempts.

Greenfield failed to pick up a field goal in eight attempts in the second quarter and went 5-19 without a point to its credit. The Wildcats wasted little time in capitalizing on this opportunity and went to work with Dewey Savage at the throttle. The hustling Savage hit five points, passed off for as many and had his share of rebounds.

Greenfield connected on eight of 17 shots in the third quarter while the Wildcats hit only four of 17. Winchester controlled anywhere from a 6-9 point lead most of the quarter until the Wildcats began pulling away in the final two minutes of play after Greenfield had made its last throw which came on a Wellhausen tally with 2:33 left that cut the deficit to five, 34-29.

Greenfield collected only six points in the final quarter while Winchester was in charge all the way. This gave both coaches a chance to clear their benches with two minutes left to play.

The Wildcats hit 16 of 62 shots and Greenfield hit 15 of 64. Dewey Savage and John Schofield led Coach Jack Renfro's scorers with 18 and 16 points respectively. Wellhausen, Bluffs' ace, hit 11 of 22 shots and scored 27 points. Ronnie Short picked up 16 and 12 respectively for the losers. Winchester dominated both banks, 46-36.

Close All The Way
The seventh game of the tournament between Bluffs and Griggsville was a see-saw battle all the way until the Tornadoes decided the outcome in the final 19 seconds of play on three charity awards by Billy Craven, 64-58.

Lee Fredrick, Bluffs' ace, hit his first four of five attempts to keep Coach George Danhaus' Bluejays on top the entire first quarter. The biggest margin separating the two teams was a 17-9 advantage enjoyed by Bluffs with 1:36 remaining.

Griggsville employed a 1-1-2 defense to contain Burl Fargo, who for the first time this season was held to less than 18 points, and it paid off as the Tornadoes kept coming back in the second quarter to knot the score twice although they never got into the lead. Bluffs led by three at the half, 34-31.

Deadly shooting by Ronnie Goocher, Bruce Baker, and Cork Shelton in the third frame was the deciding factor in the final outcome. A 20 footer by Baker put Griggsville out in front to stay, 44-42, with 2:20 left to play in the canto. Baskets by Goocher and Baker plus a free throw by Goocher put the winners out in front by seven, 49-42, with 31 seconds remaining and Bluffs was almost assured of receiving its second loss against 12 wins.

Griggsville led the entire fourth quarter but Bluffs wasn't out of the picture until there were 19 seconds left to play in the contest. After Burl Fargo had put Bluffs within three points of the lead with three seconds remaining, Craven picked up three free throws to ice the outcome.

Griggsville hit 21 of 46 shots for the game. Bluffs also hit 21 fielders but in 66 attempts. Griggsville hit at a 40 per cent clip the first half, sinking 11 of 27 shots. Bluffs made 11 of 33.

Baker and Goocher shared scoring laurels for the winners with 19 points each. Goocher hit 11 free throws in as many attempts and grabbed 10 defensive rebounds, seven in the second half.

Fredrick led the losers with 24 points, 10 of which came in the first quarter and eight in the third stanza.

Bluffs picked off 30 rebounds, 19 defensively, to Griggsville's 27, 23 of which were off the defensive boards.

8TH ANNUAL JHS FRESHMEN BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT SATURDAY

The 8th annual Jacksonville High School basketball tournament will be held Saturday at the Bowl starting at 1:00 p.m. with the host Crimmons battling Winchester. Rushville, bolstered by a 6-3 freshman center, battles Havana at 2:30 p.m. The afternoon losers play for consolation honors Saturday night at 7:00 p.m. followed by the championship clash at 8:30 p.m.

Coach Al Rosenberger, who is in his eighth season with the JHS frosh, has directed his quintet to seven wins in eight starts this season. In the past seven tournaments Jacksonville has been out of the championship game once and that came in 1959 when Havana and Rushville finished 1-2. The host school has won top honors four times and finished second twice.

No admission is charged and no trophies awarded.

Winchester is the defending champion.

St. Louis Crime Reporter Acquitted By Male Jury

HERMANN, Mo. (AP) — Crime reporter Theodore C. (Ted) Link of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch was acquitted of first degree murder Thursday night in the slaying of a former handyman.

An all-male jury in Gasconade County Circuit court deliberated 2 hours and 32 minutes before acquitting Link of the slaying of Clarence W. Calvin, 35, last July 11.

The trial of the 55-year-old newsman began Monday.

The slaying victim Calvin was slain near the burned out ruins of Link's summer home near St. Albans, Mo., in Franklin County last July 11 a few days after Link had fired him from his job. Link suspected Calvin of setting the blaze. The victim was shot twice with a shotgun and three times with a revolver.

Link claimed he fired in self-defense. He said Calvin came at him with a three-pronged hoe and a knife.

In his instructions to the jury Judge Tate said the panel could find Link guilty of first degree murder, second degree murder or manslaughter or hold that Calvin's death was justifiable homicide.

Link's wife and son and his 18-year-old daughter, Virginia, burst into tears and hugged one another when the verdict was read.

Link remained calm but slumped down in his chair in relief.

Jury foreman Raymond Englebrecht said the verdict was reached on the first ballot. He said the jury members agreed they might have done the same had they been in Link's shoes.

Englebrecht said it was the general consensus that the reporter had the right to protect himself from a man who had a bad reputation.

The case, which was transferred here on a change of venue from Franklin County, produced several surprises.

There had been considerable speculation that Link's 12-year-old son, Theodore Jr., who was the only eye-witness to the killing, would be called as a prosecution witness. He wasn't.

The state, in another surprising move, did not cross-examine Link after he had finished his testimony. The state also did not call any rebuttal witnesses.

In his final argument, Charles E. Hansen, former Franklin County prosecuting attorney who assisted the prosecution, told the jury it was true that Calvin was not "an A No. 1 citizen of Franklin County."

"But," he added, "that does not give a reporter from the Post-Dispatch the right to come out from St. Louis and kill somebody."

One of Link's defense attorneys, William Wessel of Hermann, opened the defense argument by declaring Link, on his own property, had shot a trespasser in defense of himself and his son.

Chicago Woman Who Killed 6 Loses License

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Mary E. Gillespie of Chicago, whose car ran into a crowd of pedestrians in Chicago and caused six deaths, lost her driver's license today.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said her license was revoked under a provision authorizing such action against anyone who has by "unlawful operation" of a vehicle caused or contributed to an accident resulting in death or injury.

Miss Gillespie, 26, was found guilty in a Chicago court last month of running a red light and driving on the sidewalk. She testified she blacked out prior to the accident.

Revenue Dept. Cautions Court On Local Taxes

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Revenue Department told the state Supreme Court Thursday that about $16 millions a year may be lost to local tax bodies if a railroad's objection to property taxes is upheld.

Another possibility, the department said, is that the $16 millions tax burden might be shifted to local property owners.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad won a decision in the Lee County Court last June. The railroad paid its 1958 property taxes under protest, claiming its property was assessed at 100 per cent of value while other local properties were assessed at 55 per cent.

The lower court ordered the county to refund 45 per cent of the railroad's taxes. The Revenue Department appealed.

"We are not asking something extra," John H. Bishop of Chicago, railroad attorney, told the Supreme Court. "We ask only to be put on the same basis as other taxpayers."

Willard Lee, representing the Revenue Department, argued that local taxing units in the state would lose $16 million if all railroads were permitted to reduce taxes by 45 per cent.

Chief Rules: No More Comic Book Reading By Cops

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — The Decatur police department underwent a drastic change in reading habits today—from Western novels and girls comic books to the police training manual.

Chief of Police James H. May also laid down this additional rule:

The lieutenants in charge of each of the three 8-hour work shifts shall read one page of the training manual each day to all personnel on duty.

May said an investigation showed the force was over fond of reading Western stories and comic books on duty, in violation of regulations.

Sadowski May See Big Time — With Phillies

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Sadowski, a high school phenom signed by the St. Louis Cardinals for a substantial bonus seven years ago, may finally make the grade in the majors this year—with the Philadelphia Phillies.

The 24-year-old infielder was secured by the Phils last winter in a trade. He batted .340 at San Diego after starting the season with Rochester, where he hit only .223 in 50 games.

Sadowski is unlikely to win a regular job because the Phils have one of the National League's top second basemen in Tony Taylor but, because of his versatility, Sadowski may land a utility spot. He is equally at home a third base.

Another well-liked infielder is Bob Wine, who batted .269 at Buffalo last season and led the league's shortstops in total chances. Jim Woods, a third baseman, also is given a good chance to stick.

The 31-year-old prospect batted only .260 at Indianapolis but swatted 19 home runs and drove in 64 runs.

Regarded as a real comer is Ted

Savage, an outfielder. Off to a slow start last year in the Eastern League, he finished with a respectable .284 average and stole 38 bases to help Williamsport win the championship.

The Phillies' roster contains six freshman pitchers. Al Neiger, a left-hander, has the best credentials. He won eight and lost three at Williamsport with a 2.73 earned run average.

NEXT: Baltimore Orioles.

Only Three NAIA Cage Squads Undefeated

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Prairie View, Tex., A&M and Mansfield, Pa., State are the only undefeated college basketball teams among the 460 member schools of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The Texas quintet added wins last week over Grambling and Texas Southern to run its unbeaten streak to 15. The win over Grambling was a close one, 79-69, and the loss was only Grambling's third in 21 games.

Mansfield, which leads NAIA colleges with an average winning margin of 31.3, downed Bloomsburg, Pa., State, 83-57, and Cheney, Pa., State, 101-47, to make its mark 8-0.

Other teams with outstanding records include: Oglethorpe, Ga. University, Defiance, Ohio, College, Arkansas Tech and Indiana, Pa., State, all with 9-1 records; Lenoir-Rhyne, N.C. College, 13-2; Anderson, Ind., College, Augsburg, Minn., College, Stephen F. Austin of Texas and Southwestern, La., University, 11-2.

John Bradley of Lawrence, Mich., Tech, has taken over the individual scoring lead with a 34.3 pace for 12 games.

Bowles Proclaims Opposition To Red China Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chester Bowles Thursday proclaimed his opposition to recognition of Red China and won swift approval from a Senate committee for his nomination as undersecretary of state.

Bowles moved through the hearing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee with more ease than had been expected.

Tough questioning had been predicted by some Republicans. But, by the time their turns came, his severest critics found he had answered the questions they had planned to ask.

Red China was the focal subject. In the past, some critics have said Bowles' views implied eventual recognition of Red China.

But Bowles told the committee he not only opposed recognition but saw no possibility that the United States would meet the terms demanded by the Communists for recognition.

The Chinese Communist leader, Mao Tse-tung, and Premier Chou En-lai have said they will not discuss relations with the United States until this country lets Formosa become a part of mainland China, Bowles told the committee.

"Obviously we won't do that. We will not stand for that," Bowles said.

"I simply feel we are obviously not going to give up Formosa. We are going to defend Formosa at whatever the cost and whatever the risks."

Any potential Republican opposition to Bowles' nomination appeared to wilt after those statements.

Downstate Prep Notes

By JOHN CAMPBELL
Springfield high will return to the Pontiac Holiday tourney next December. Pekin will play a 21-game chart next season and Quincy high replaces Alton on the Canton basketball schedule. Lewisville is the new team in Canton's Third Annual Holiday tourney and Coach Joe Adam is looking for two new teams to complete Canton's 1961-62 cage chart. Danville, Forman (Manito) and Abingdon are not returning to Canton's Holiday tourney and two more teams are needed to complete the field.

Harry Smith is the baseball coach at Canton Community college and ten games will be on the schedule this Spring for the Crusaders. Coach Smith is the soph basketball boss at Canton senior high school. His son, Larry, is a member of the soph squad.

Jerseyville plays at Litchfield January 28 and this one could be one of the best games in Central Illinois this season. Coach George Havens' gang showed the teams of the tough Southwestern loop their power in the Dupo tourney last week. The Panthers will be real tough by regional tourney time and George Havens has taken two teams to the "Sweet 16" tourneys at Nashville and Jerseyville.

Pekin's Frosh defeated Washington's Frosh 71-38 with Steve Cullinan leading the Chinks with 18 points. Conference leaders — Big 12—Springfield; Mid State—Litchfield; Southwestern—Collinsville; South Central—Carlinville; MSM—Pawnee, Morrisville, Kincaid; Sangamo—New Berlin; CMS—Morrisville; Abe Lincoln—Easton, Petersburg; Midwest—Pittsfield, Beardstown; Spoon River—Beardstown; Illinois Valley—Winchester; FMSC—Bluffs, Rount (Jacksonville).

Windsor is the defending champion in Shelbyville's tourney this week and the tough Clinton Maroons of Coach Elmer Hunter are favored to win this one. Winchester is favored to win the top prize at the Scott County seat high school while Beardstown or Pittsfield will win at Rushville. Springfield high will be favored to win the City tourney with Griffin and Lanphier the dark horses. Farmington is favored to win the Fulton County prize at Avon.

Injuries have hampered several teams this season including Taylorville, Alton, Pinckneyville, Feitshans, Collinsville and Greenfield. John Malone, 6-2 Canton high standout, will gain his eligibility in time to play against Peoria Limestone at Canton's gym Tuesday night in an Illinois conference game. Coach Joe Adam is high on Malone who played regular at Peoria, spalding two years ago and with him in the lineup Canton will be tough by tournament time according to Adam, in his second year at the Fulton County high school after coaching at Beason, Mason City and Western high of Macomb.

Beardstown Decisions Brown County, 57-55

RUSHVILLE — Beardstown won the first game of the Midwestern Tourney Thursday night by a scant 57-55 margin over the Brown County Bombers of Mt. Sterling. The Tigers and the Bombers hooked up in a real duel, that saw the lead see-saw through the final quarter until Chuck Orwig sank two free throws that pushed Beardstown into a 57-55 lead with only 20 seconds remaining. Brown County had taken a 19-11 lead at the end of the first period, only to see the Tigers out score them by seven in the second stanza and pull to within one point, 20-28, at half time. John Andria pumped in nine points in the second quarter to get the Tigers back in the ball game.

The second half was a tight contest all the way with Dick Marshall and John McCoy leading their two clubs. Marshall scored 12 points for Beardstown in the final 16 minutes and McCoy collected 10 for Brown County. The Bombers had an opportunity to tie the ball game in the final few seconds but the attempted shot went astray. Beardstown had taken the four point lead on Orwig's charity tosses and Warren Newell countered for Brown County to keep them in the game. The Tigers attempted to stall, but lost the ball and the Bombers missed their chance to tie it up. Dick Marshall and John Andria led Coach Ralph Davidson's Tigers with 17 points each, while John McCoy topped the losers balanced attack with 16.

Beardstown will now meet the winner of the Pittsfield-Rushville game Friday night at 8:30 for the championship.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

By Noel M. Loomis

XXXV
Bart stepped across the wagon tongue. Two men at the edge of the crowd near the outlaw trio got up and moved hurriedly back through the wagons to get out of the line of fire.

Willis murmured, unperturbed: "You seem to have three associates in counsel, Mr. Browning. Would you care to identify them?"

All three of the outlaws spoke at once. "He doesn't have to answer," said Bart.

Judge Willis frowned and drew a deep breath. The horsefry buzzed around his head, and Willis struck at it with the paper, but missed again. Then he said to the spectators, "A legal trial cannot be held under such circumstances of interference. You three gentlemen are guilty of contempt of court, and I sentence each of you to pay a fine of $100." He turned to Wheeler. "The court will have to be cleared, sheriff, until order is resumed."

Wheeler looked at the three outlaws, swallowed, and said, "This county is not in my jurisdiction, Your Honor."

Willis spoke in a low voice to Wheeler, and then wrote in his book. "The court has just entered the names of Xenophon Jones, Stud Murphy, and Piggie Benson as appearing in behalf of defendant. The minutes will also show that these three men have been adjudged guilty of contempt. The court also notes, off the record, that this session must be postponed sine die unless order is restored."

Stud Murphy stepped forward two paces. "Get out of there, Halvorson!" he shouted.

Bart moved too fast for any eye to see. His 44's sprang forward, one spouting fire and lead at Jones, the other at Murphy.

The area that had constituted the courtroom erupted in flame and thunder and hot lead. Murphy shot and Jones fired once or twice. Then Murphy lurched but kept shooting. Jones threw up his hands and went over backward, his guns throwing flame into the blue sky.

Bart moved his aim toward Benson, but the man was on the ground. Bart felt warm blood running down his side, and then a cloud of white smoke rolled over everything.

After that brief but incredible violent burst of gunfire, there was no sound. Arrington stood between the wagons.

Bart looked down at the dead outlaws: Xenophon Jones with his wavy brown whiskers; Stud Murphy with his big black mustache; and Piggie Benson, hollow-chested even in death.

Bart put his six-shooters away. Wheeler corralled some men to help him examine the bodies and carry them out. The outlaws who had been brought in as hired gunmen had disappeared, and Charles Goodnight was plugging up the hole in Bart's side. "Too low for lungs: too far to one side for stomach; too high for guts," he announced.

Bart saw Harding come up. "You got Benson?" he asked.

Harding shrugged. "You were watching the other two. I sort of concentrated on Benson."

Goodnight went up to the desk. "It seems to me, Judge, that the immediate interests of justice might best be served if you recessed court for a few minutes so everybody could have a drink."

Judge Willis arose. "Charlie," he said, "you really said something."

STAGE REUNION

NEW YORK (P)—British actor Victor Spinetti got to meet an uncle he had never seen by virtue of his part in a Broadway show.
Henry J. Watson, a brother of Spinetti's mother, came to this country from Wales in 1913, long before the birth of the young actor. When Watson and his wife learned the player would be here in "The Hostage," they came from Rochester, N. Y., for a get-acquainted visit.

NEW RULES IN EFFECT

New School Inspires Name Of Warriors' For Calhoun Teams

HARDIN, Ill.—With work on the new high school for Calhoun Unit District No. 40 speeding up, and with the Indian architecture of the building in mind, students of the high school have voted to change the name of the athletic teams to the "Warriors" when the move to the new school is made in the fall. The teams have been known as the "Tigers."

New school colors will replace the orange and black of the old Hardin high school, as the unit now includes students from the various other communities in the north half of Calhoun county. The new colors will be black and red, according to the voting booth, secret ballot vote of the students. The name of the new school will be shortened from the tongue-twisting "Calhoun Community Unit District No. 40 High School," to "Calhoun High School." Decisions made by the students on these three changes were approved by the board of education of the unit at its regular meeting this month. All materials required for completely enclosing the new school building are now on hand, and work is progressing rapidly, according to the contractors. Delay in the delivery of materials had plagued the workers all through the fall, but bad weather is the only thing that would slow the progress from this point, it was said.

To Form Sewing Class
An organization meeting for an adult sewing class is scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the home economics room of the high school in Hardin. The interest shown will determine whether the class will be for beginning or advanced tailoring. Date of starting, time of meeting, night of meeting, and number and type of lessons will be determined at this meeting.
Those who are interested, but who cannot attend, have been asked to call the high school office, giving name and address and preferences. Classes will be limited in size, according to Mrs. Norman McNelly, instructor.

The Jacksonville Ministerial Association, through a special committee, is planning an all-day spiritual retreat for ministers of the area on February 13.

There will be an opening worship service with Dr. Richard Nesmith, dean of men at MacMurray College, as speaker. Then a morning lecture and discussion period with the Rev. James Melchior, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church of Auburn, as lecturer, and the Rev. Lando Eitzen of the local Congregational church as moderator for the discussion period.

A group of ladies from Centenary Methodist church, where the retreat will be held, will serve a noon luncheon, after which the afternoon will begin with devotion led by Dr. Clyde Steckel, chaplain of Illinois College.

The afternoon lecture will be given by Dr. H. Russell Coulter, District Superintendent of the Jacksonville District of the Central Illinois Conference of the Methodist Church. Rev. Fred Tyrrell of First Presbyterian church will lead the discussion. Closing devotion will be conducted by Dr. Coulter.

Ministers of the area are asked to mark this date on their calendars. Further information and details will be mailed. The Rev. Jack Thompson is chairman of the special committee.

Cars Damaged In Collision Near Virginia

BEARDSTOWN—Slippery spots on highways that are mostly clear make driving hazardous, state troopers report.

Elmer Bockmeier, of 208 West 12th street was driving east on U. S. 67 about 2 1/2 miles west of Virginia Thursday when his car skidded and hit the left side of an oncoming car driven by Russell Earl Hedrick, 29, of Dubuque, Ia.

No one was injured, but the impact tore the whole left side of the Hedrick car. Damages amounted to between $600 and $700 to Hedrick's 1958 Plymouth 2-door which was towed to the McHaley Barnett garage here.

State Trooper Bob Kaylor who investigated the accident said Bockmeier was driving east when he met a truck and went off the right shoulder of the road. In swerving back onto the highway, the car slid on icy pavement and spun across the highway into the left side of the approaching car.

The Bockmeier car was drivable after the accident. Bockmeier received a traffic ticket for wrong lane usage.

Trooper Bob Hayes assisted Kaylor with handling traffic at the scene of the accident.

Roads were reported clearing during the day, but driving was more treacherous due to icy patches in sheltered areas.

Asks $50,000 For Loss Of Eye In Farm Mishap

Damages of $50,000 for loss of his right eye were asked by Wilmet E. Cooley in a suit filed Thursday in Morgan county circuit court against Zane Allison and Melvin Homer, doing business as the E & Z Complete Feed Service of Beardstown, a partnership, and Glen L. Sandman.

The suit sets forth that on Jan. 23, 1959, Glen L. Sandman, an employee of the feed service company, was engaged in operating and repairing a grain mill or mixing machine on the farm premises of Louis Hoffmeier near Arenzville, in Morgan county.

The plaintiff further stated that he was on the Hoffmeier farm for the purpose of delivering feed ingredients. It is alleged that a sliver or piece of metal flew from the feed grinder and lodged in Cooley's right eye. Negligence in operation of the feed machine is charged.

Earl S. Hodges of Springfield is attorney for the plaintiff.

A morning meeting of the general membership of the League is an experiment. Members with small children may bring them to the kindergarten room of the church where a sister will look after them. Those wishing to may bring a sack lunch and continue the discussion after noon.

Friends of the League are welcome.

JFK's Doctors Say His Health Still Excellent

WASHINGTON (AP)—John F. Kennedy's doctors said today his health continues to be excellent.

The statement was issued in response to newsmen's inquiries about two hours before Kennedy was scheduled to be sworn in as president.

"A physical examination this month indicated that President Kennedy's health continues to be excellent," said a statement signed by Dr. Eugene J. Cohen and Dr. Janet Travell, both of New York.

Dr. Travell treated Kennedy for the serious back ailment which brought him close to death a few years ago. It was a flare-up of an injury he suffered while in college, and which was aggravated when the ER boat which he commanded was slashed in half by a Japanese destroyer during World War II.

Arkansas comes from a Quapaw Indian word meaning "downstream people."

NEW BERLIN FIRE CHIEF

NEW BERLIN—Ed Davenport is shown holding the Lifetime Honorary Fire Chief badge just presented him by Charles Fulton, president of the New Berlin Fire Protection District. In the background is the fire truck with the ladders and hoses visible.

Ed is wearing his white No. 1 helmet, which he has worn as Chief of the local fire department the past 25 years. However, his service to the fire department began many years prior to that. As an early teenager, he recalls going out on the first fire call answered by the new Model T fire truck in about 1918, and was on the engine practically every time it went on a run after that. He vividly describes the many larger fires which have occurred over the years, some of them leading to transformation in the business district. In 1916 as a youngster, he watched as the fire department fought a blaze that engulfed a business block in midtown, taking the buildings on the east of Wabash Park, from the highway to the railroad.

Outrains Fire Truck
He tells of the days of the fabulous Model T, that at full speed, 20 miles an hour on the good roads was the best it would do, and of the time the volunteer firemen, they welcomed anyone and all who would hop on, were dashing to a fire when one of the firemen realized it was his home afire. He promptly jumped from the truck sprinting ahead, reaching home base before the truck.

"Big Fire Of '38"
In 1936 the village board of New Berlin asked Ed Davenport to be their Fire Chief. Many people of the community will remember the big fire of '38, the one which destroyed the Rodeo Tavern at the rodeo grounds just west of New Berlin. The building also housed the popular skating rink and gymnasium. This was the first big blaze the new chief fought.

Over the years, many improvements of fire fighting equipment, buildings and training of the volunteers have been made. Ed, an expert mechanic, has enjoyed keeping the equipment in tip-top condition and actually constructed much of the fire fighting equipment, keeping abreast of the times by attending instructive sessions of improved methods of fire fighting as taught in larger localities.

When Ed was asked for the information for this article, he modestly remarked "Those other guys have done as much as I have." He was referring to his loyal volunteers, and particularly to the trustees of the department. In 1951, the New Berlin and Island Grove Fire Protection District was formed with the trustees of the New Berlin district elected: president, Charles Fulton; secretary, Tim Stapleton; treasurer, Earl Coulter. Trustees of the Island Grove district elected at the same time were president, William Brehm; secretary, Kenneth Dunlap, and treasurer, Leigh Cox. It is to these men and the community he says "I have enjoyed it just for the good it may have done."

Tokyo Seminary Professor Will Be Guest Here

A Tokyo seminary professor will be the guest preacher at the First Presbyterian church of Jacksonville on Sunday morning, Jan. 22, at the 9 and 11 o'clock services. Rev. Sam H. Franklin, Jr., professor of Social Ethics at Union Theological Seminary, Tokyo, Japan, represents the United Presbyterian church on the faculty of the only training school for ministers sponsored by the United Church of Christ in Japan.

Besides teaching courses in social ethics, he holds seminars in rural and industrial evangelism. He established and is supervisor of a social rural project that is a demonstration parish for seminary students. The program of the center includes a varied program: church services, club for young working women, 4-H Club, library, recreation facilities and a nursery school. There is also a small health center with a staff of two nurses and visiting doctors.

Mr. Franklin, during World War II, was a navy chaplain, serving in the Pacific area for 18 months with prisoners of war. During the earlier months of the conflict, he was director of the Delta Cooperative Farm in Mississippi, a bi-racial religious, medical, educational program for sharecroppers.

While on furlough in 1955 Mr. Franklin served as director of the recently established Study Fellowship program for newly appointed missionaries and fraternal workers.

He is a native of Tennessee, and a graduate of Maryville College and McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago. He has earned his Master's degree from Union Theological Seminary in New York City. His college Alma Mater bestowed an honorary doctor's degree upon him in 1946.
